

Top and above: Clean, modern lines combine with optimum functionality in this bath spout, tap and mixer from the 160 series by Steinberg. Like all Steinberg products, they are made from chrome-plated solid brass.

Right: Four spa jets are a special feature of the shower in this bathroom. Water diverts from the rain shower to the jets when the central control is turned. Products can be configured to local conditions, such as water pressure, and to meet homeowners' individual requirements. All tapware shown is from the Steinberg 160 series. All Steinberg tapware and accessories are manufactured to international standards from chrome-plated solid brass, and carry a full twelve-month warranty.

"We are proud to represent Steinberg's fine products, which demonstrate that good design need not be expensive," says Su.
